Explosion Rips Through City Plant

Six Have Narrow Brush As Blast Hits Plant, Home

Six employees of Saskatoon Welding Ltd., at 902-102 avenue, narrowly escaped this afternoon when an spectacular explosion and fire gutted the one-storey building and damaged an adjoining two-storey rooming house.

Six escapees took their bedding and furniture with them. A half-hour after the blast, only the four walls of Saskatoon were left standing.

Nauman said that his plant and almost all equipment was a total loss. Also lost was a 1948 truck owned by Gibson Transport Ltd. from Peace River.

The residence at 902-102 avenue was owned by Andrew Yanchura, now working at Edson as a section foreman on the CNR.

Yanchura had purchased the place and moved in on July 1. The upper story of the house and the roof were badly damaged, but in the other sections the damage was not heavy.

Yanchura and his wife had two young daughters, Christine and Andrea, who were sitting in the kitchen of their home when Mrs. Scott, tenant of the house, saw the smoke rising from the building next door was on fire.

Immediately, the Yanchuras started to remove what furniture they could, and continued until it became too risky, they said later.

First alarm was turned in at 2:04 p.m. and was responded to by pump trucks and aerial ladders from No. 1 and No. 2 firehalls.

A general alarm a few minutes later brought ladder trucks from No. 3 and a pump truck from No. 8.

Within a few minutes after the blast, several thousand people massed on the streets near the scene of the explosion, and buses on 9th street were tied up completely.

500 Inspect New Building For Students

The full $500,000 students' union building at the University of Alberta will be humming like a happy beehive.

It will be the nerve centre for practically all student organizations on the campus and each enterprise will be housed in a separate unit to provide the utmost efficiency and working convenience.

Payment on the $500,000 provincial government loan will cost each student at the university six dollars per winter term.

And they have already contributed $100,000 from student union coffers to the building fund.

OPEN HOUSE

The 500 visitors—most of them summer students—who took the grand tour of the almost completed building last Sunday agreed that the money was buying a dream worth realizing.

"There's not a dark corner in the building," one of six volunteer guides pointed out with pride during Saturday's "open house" tour.

"Nor an inch of wasted space." The six student union guides, Douglas and Glen McCallough, Miss R. Curt, Harry Lawford, Wes Stephens and Bob Macmillan, chairman Ron Stephens, admitted around 2 p.m. that they were a little out of breath.

But they hadn't lost any of their enthusiasm for the project. In fact they anticipated the building's opening in ambitious student union plans which call for construction of a gymnasium and swimming pool which will link the new students union building with present facilities.

OPEN IN FALL

The present building—first big building since the 1920s—will be ready for operation for the fall term.

It is going to make a major relocation and re-organization of many student body organizations and offices.

Students Union Offices are on the main floor—right at the entrance. President Michael O'Brien and permanent secretary-communications, Don Davidson, have private offices here.

In the lobby itself will be the new student union office, a bank cafeteria of all ticket selling agencies at the university, a cigarette counter, and a lounge.

Organized by the CNIB, will be a lounge, both large and airy, and well lighted by many windows.

Also located on main floor are alumnae offices, conference room, student council meeting rooms.

The guides took time out to describe the building's radio control room and PA system which would permit music of orchestra and band to be heard in both lounges.

On top floor of the new building is the women's lounge, done in knotty pine paneling and furnished with fireplace "big enough for a freckled lot."

LOUNGE FEATURE

A distinctive feature on this floor is the faculty lounge in the left wing, complete with "club waiter" service from snack bar in basement floor.

Offices of Gateway and Evergreen and Gold publications, each with editorial rooms, libraries and make-up rooms, are out on the floor.

Downstairs are the games room, large lounge with semi-private bar, and a kitchen and room for two students who will be in permanent residence as caretakers.

Cost of furnishings has been set at $60,000.

When the new establishment goes into high gear it will mean the realization of a dream that started 15 years ago, house committee chairman Ron Stephens said.

It was dream however, that did not begin its translation into accomplishment until "about 1948". In that year, D. G. Pybus, then president of the Students' Union "really got things rolling."

Later plans were approved by the student body and work finally began in the spring of 1949 with correspondence of the dream being being laid in July that year.

Korean War 'Experiment'

Invasion of South Korea by Communists in experiment by the Kremlin to test the reaction of United Nations leaders.

That is the opinion of Dr. Tai Whang, of Charley Cammell Hospital, a native of Korea, who holds no doubt of victory for the UN forces.

Dr. Whang left his birthplace in North Korea 15 years ago to do graduate work with tuberculosis cases.

For two months he has received no word from his wife and three daughters who stayed behind in the war-torn country.

Upon completion of his studies he will return to the fighting zone.

Bus Travellers See Flying Disc

Object In Sky Near City Seen In Broad Daylight

Alberta's flying saucers started competing with Korean war news for newspaper space today.

The flying saucer report—first in this area since Korean trouble broke out—was turned in by two passengers and the driver of an Edmonton-Barrhead bus.

The three men said they saw a "bright shining disc curve up into the sky" about 10 miles north of Edmonton at 9:30 a.m. today.

Then it vanished as suddenly as it appeared," they said.

The aluminum colored object was only visible for a few moments, they agreed.

ARMORED CAR FOR CITY

Carrying money for money is the job of Edmonton's newest business venture.

Loomis Armored Car Service, which has operated in Vancouver for 15 years, will open a branch in Edmonton at 9:30 a.m. today.

There are never less than two men on a truck and sometimes as many as four.

The exact details of the truck are secret but Mr. Loomis said the armor protecting the aluminum body makes the vehicle "shot proof."

The window glass, windshield and all, is one and three-sixteenths inches thick.

Two compartments protect the driver and guard up front and the customer in back. Even if a hijacker broke into the truck, he wouldn't get far with it. Custodian inside would control the brakes and ignition, shoot at him through portholes and manipulate a siren louder than a taxi's siren.

Police Training School

The proposal that Mayor Sidney Parsons wants to present to the Federation of Canadian Mayors and Municipalities with regard to the establishment of a regional training school for Canadian firemen and police officers is so essentially sound that it is a wonder it has not been broached before.

Mayor Parsons envisions a school where selected firemen and policemen from Canadian cities would receive five courses in fire and police work and then return to act as instructors in their own departments.

The plan could perhaps be improved by providing, not only for the graduation of instructors, but for a limited basic training for all policemen and firemen.

If such a school operated continuously, small contingents could be sent from every police and fire department in Canada until, gradually, all the members of every department had taken some instruction.

Even the fraternization among policemen and firemen from different cities would have a value since it would encourage a constant exchange of ideas and methods between these men when their school stint had been completed.

It's No Time for Parsimony

Whether or not the Exhibition Association should increase the purses offered race horse owners is a matter of expert calculation of expenses and receipts. But the general public will feel that parsimony is completely out of line at a moment when the popularity of the fair and its revenue are constantly increasing.

There can be no possible doubt, however, that the suggested paving of the midway roads and the provision of considerably augmented parking space is utterly necessary, not only for the convenience of exhibition patrons, but to maintain the

The greatest value in such a school as suggested by Mayor Parsons does not lie in the fact that it would train police officers and firemen in the latest and most modern methods of their crafts.

That is of tremendous importance, of course. But it would give them something of even more vital significance than a modern technique. It would give them a new and lively interest in their work.

Everyone who has had any experience in the management of men appreciates the fact that the most deadly enemy to production is disinterestedness.

The useless man is not so much the stupid man or the ill-tempered man as the man who has fallen into a rut.

There is a great challenge to the imagination in fighting crime as in fighting fire. And that challenge is only as long as those who do that work realize the immense technique and skill that are necessary to do it well.

If that realization is kept alive by capable instruction and the constant exchange of new ideas among the men themselves, Canada could soon have the finest police and fire service in the world.

momentum of popularity and increased revenues.

This is the time, too, for the directors to give some thought to better parking facilities for hockey patrons.

It should be remembered that hockey is an important source of income to the Association and that public good will can be built up or torn down just as easily in the winter time as in the summer exhibition time.

A paved parking area adjacent to the Gardens with adequate lighting and proper markers is quite as important as dressing up the grounds for the great July event.

Legal Aid for the Indigent

The announcement that the Montreal Bar Association, working with a group of welfare agencies, has completed plans to establish a bureau which will provide legal advice and service to the indigent, is not only a commendable step, but it is a necessary one, for the indigent is not only a social problem, but a legal one.

Free legal aid for the indigent is not new.

Such a bureau has recently been set up in Saint John, New Brunswick, and the city of Winnipeg has a bureau which concerns itself with the legal problems of the poor.

In the United States, no less than 64 of these organizations are in operation. Canadian courts aim to give exactly the same kind of justice to impoverished people as they give to the wealthy.

But unless the poor man is enabled to employ a solicitor to study and develop the merits of his case, the fairest minded judge in the world can do little to help him because, in the end, he must abide by the evidence.

It is a matter of fact, it is not unusual in Canadian courts, when persons involved in litigation or appearing as defendants in a criminal action are not adequately represented by counsel for the trial judge himself to function, unofficially, in that capacity to some extent.

Judges should not have to act as barristers.

And the fact that they do, upon occasion, indicates how desperately some form of free legal aid is needed that justice may not pass the poor man by.

fluency of liquor and to what extent it has incapacitated him.

If these tests are applied carefully and fairly, there is little danger of injustice to motorists.

Traffic has reached such a point of intensity in Edmonton that whatever contributes to the traffic hazard must be given the most careful consideration.

Mud, Wind, Water In Saskatchewan

(Columnist Jack Scott is on a cross-Canada tour with his family in a motor home trailer.—EDN)

YORKTOWN, Sask.—Some startled men today on prairie impressions, witty sayings of children and Saskatchewan road warnings:

When we started this morning at the Regina tourist bureau, the first best way to get to Regina was to go to Regina. The woman behind the desk smiled apologetically and said "Zy."

After 10 hours through a casual rain, mud roads, deep, wet mud I was wishing we'd taken the advice.

Which brings us to the witty saying of our 10-year-old who passed through our snowed windshield and warned, "Here comes another truck, Daddy. Watch out for the waves."

But I'm afraid I'm boring you with stories about "Canadian Roads. Let me just add this: Say clear of Saskatchewan in any wheeled vehicle.

Beautiful Country Really is too had the highways are this way. The country east of Regina, which is a beautiful, green and wooded with the wheat fields fresh and cool. When the Trans-Canada Highway is a road, it is a road. Canadians will feel a new sense of identity with their native land and the country they are in.

Unhappily, at the moment, it's possible to feel nothing but a sense of shame that they were not to know how to build a decent highway.

For people like us who've never moved on the prairies before, coming upon a road new and refreshing experience. The drive to Regina the other day, however, was a delight to our kids because they were able to see so many miles away.

With the late afternoon sun on it, Regina seemed a bright new growing out of the rippling green sea of wheat.

It was a relief to learn that the conclusion as reluctantly as a coast-dweller abroad, that it was time to learn to love this long country.

HEAVY WEAPONS Tank Strength of U.S. And Russians Debated

By DOUGLAS LARSEN Reports of new types of very heavy Russian-made tanks in the Korean fighting have brought into the open a long, bitter feud over armor equipment and the relative merits of U.S. and Red tanks.

Russian armor has always been on heavy armor, heavy tanks, and the fact that the U.S. tanks have been out of the line for their deep-seated crude and appearance and the heavy, uncomfortable space provided for crews.

Emphasis On Numbers Intelligence reports give vivid proof of the Russian emphasis on great numbers of tanks. While America produced 800 last year, Russia turned out 45,000.

This year Russia plans to make 40,000 while America plans for 200 new ones and the removal of 200 old ones.

Last winter Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Edgar Hoover at it all at a press conference in Washington. He said several new tanks which would be smaller and more maneuverable than the present ones.

Unfortunately, the Army admits now, these new type tanks could not be available in any mass quantity "for several years."

Requirements Are Basic A Pentagon authority says that the first thing a tank man asks is "How big is the tank?" The JS-III has a 120 mm cannon. The Army's heaviest M46 "Patton" is a smaller 90 mm gun.

Next most important quality in a tank is armor. The Russian JS-III has a front plate 30 inches thick, sides 25 inches, top 15 inches, and rear 15 inches thick.

Thickness of armor on the Patton is a classed as 15 inches. The weight of the two tanks gives the clue. The JS-III weighs upwards of 37 tons, the Patton is classed as 47½ tons.

British, French and U.S. experts scoffed at the first big Russian tanks they saw during World War II. The thickness of the armor seemed to vary on each tank.

But They Did the Job It turned out that that is order to get tanks across (asier from the factories, the Russians had not minimized their armor. The result: Intolerance about the minimum. It wasn't the nearest job in the world, but they got it done. And they did the job.

Russian tanks were also loved at the front. The maintenance they required in the field. Some of them carried a spare differential and a spare engine. And it turned out that they were in the repair shop much

Rail Strike Committee Established In West

Threat of a major railway workers' strike loomed closer today following report from western officials of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers that a close-knit strike organization had been set up in western Canada.

Local union men emphasized the critical stage of year-long wage and hour dispute with the railway with a statement that only one of four affected unions in the Edmonton area had yet to set up a strike committee.

This would be done Wednesday, they said, following which the four would establish a district strike organization.

Douglas Browne, Edmonton member of the C.B.R.E.'s national executive said today a statement on strike situation would be issued after the Wednesday meeting.

Previously H. A. Chappell, deputy national president of the C.B.R.E. had been quoted in press reports from Winnipeg as saying: "We are going ahead on the assumption the strike will take place."

Chappell has been named strike supervisor, the report stated, with eight district strike leaders responsible to him in area between the Lakehead and Vancouver Island.

He is to confer with strike leaders in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and visit every local in the western area within the next week to aid them in setting up strike committees.

Local union spokesmen did not say if Chappell would come here. Executive member Browne said today that 15 international and two Canadian organizations would be involved.

2,000 Attend Adventist Camp

LACMERE, July 31.—An attendance of about 2,000 attended the weekend Seventh-day Adventist camp meeting being conducted on the campus of Canadian Union College.

Visiting speakers included William B. Ochs, vice-president of the General Conference from Washington, D.C. and W. A. Nelson, newly elected president of the Canadian Union Conference with headquarters at Oshawa, Ont.

The nominating committee report brought in the re-election of all the throne he reclaimed only nine days ago after five years of exile pronounced peace for the little nation plagued by menacing disorders.

The King will go on the radio at 10 p.m. (5 p.m. EDT) to tell the Belgian people of his decision to turn over the throne to Crown Prince Baudouin, 19.

A compromise was reached by the country's three major political parties tonight after 25 hours of ceaseless negotiations.

ABDICATOR SEEN: Roger Most, chairman of the Liberal party said the King had agreed to delegate his powers to the crown prince. Although the delegation of power is labelled temporary, he said, it will be made permanent later.

Thus, as Leopold's decision shaped up on the basis of early reports, he said it was equivalent to abdication.

Chiang Visit Brings Mixed Speculation

TAIPEI, Formosa, July 31.—Reuters—Observers today said Gen. MacArthur's visit to Formosa might indicate

1. A warning to Chinese Communists that the United States is prepared to consider the defence of Formosa as important as that of Korea.

2. MacArthur's advisers may have definite knowledge of Communist plans to invade Formosa, or

3. MacArthur is considering the use of Chinese Nationalist troops in Korea, Chiang Kai-shek has offered to send 33,000 highly-trained troops.

MacArthur's first reaction was reported to be that the troops were of more use in Formosa.

SOME REGARDED HIS VISIT, on the eve of the opening of the United Nations Security Council session at Lake Success, N.Y., Tuesday, as significant.

They expressed belief that if there is to be any unstinting of the Nationalist Chinese delegate in favor of a Communist delegate it will be delayed while the UN commander is conferring with Chiang.

Meanwhile, a Chinese Nationalist radio official said 1,000 Nationalist guerrillas are operating "behind the Iron Curtain."

Gen. MacArthur's visit to Chiang Kai-shek will, he said, "boost their morale more than any single event since the evacuation of our forces from the mainland."

Super-Force Measures Tiniest Virus

CHICAGO, (UPI)—A University of Chicago scientist reports that he has found a force 20,000 times stronger than gravity in measuring a living thing so small that 250,000 could be crowded into a single inch.

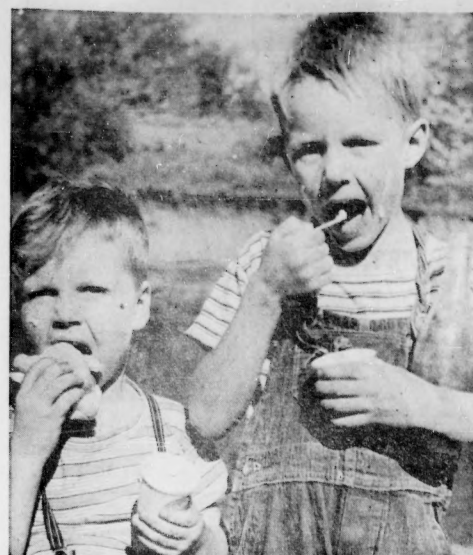

Frank V. Putnam, assistant professor of biochemistry, said in an article in the Journal Science that he measured a kind of virus known as bacteriophage.

Putnam said he and his colleagues, Earl A. Evans and Lloyd Knudsen, used an ultra-centrifuge to separate the virus by weight.

The ultra-centrifuge works like a cream separator, and while spinning at 50,000 revolutions per minute creates forces up to 250,000 times that of gravity.

Little is known about viruses, even though they are believed responsible for many diseases, including infantile paralysis.

CHIMNEY ADEQUACY AFFECTS HEAT SUPPLY

The performance of your heating unit will be governed largely by the adequacy of the chimney to provide draft and to carry off smoke and gases.

Of basic importance is the size of the flue—the open shaft. The flue must be of sufficient size to meet the draft requirements of your furnace.

Advice of your heating contractor is therefore necessary in determining its dimensions. Flues should never be less than eight and a half inches square or seven inches in diameter.

PERMIT SMOKE ESCAPE
Flues lined with glazed clay tile permit smoke to escape easily. If the lining is omitted and the flue of the flue are rough, the flow of gas and smoke from the furnace will be impeded. This could hamper the efficiency of the heating unit.

Unlined chimneys should be built with brick or solid masonry eight inches in thickness. Cement and lime mortar are used with joints made as smooth as possible.

Four inches of masonry is sufficient for lined flues. Care must be taken to break all horizontal joints between the tile and the brickwork.

BELOW SMOKE INLET
A clean-out door at least three feet below the smoke inlet at the bottom of the flue, is required to facilitate removal of soot.

Fire prevention demands that no wood joints or beams be built into or rest on the brickwork of the chimney. Framing should not be within two inches of the masonry.

The chimney must extend at least two feet above the highest point of the roof unless it is at least 12 feet away from the ridge.

South Drive-In Has New Features

New Snack Bar Suggests Modern Snack Bar Ideas

Edmonton's second and most modern drive-in theatre, South Side, will be open to movie-lovers tomorrow evening.

Located on 100 street and 51 avenue, Western Drive-In Theatre's new South Side boasts the latest in equipment, comfort, and efficiency reached through years of experience of its owners.

Frank Kershaw, managing director of WINT, and formerly district manager for Famous Players in Western Canada, has constructed this latest entertainment centre for "the individuality and privacy of patrons".

WIDE EXPERIENCE

The $250,000 investment will be under the supervision of Norm McDonald, also supervisor of the Starlite, and management of Mel Corney, who have had much experience with the operation of drive-in theatres.

Situated from the city centre within a few minutes' drive the theatre covers 12 acres, accommodating 550 cars on the hard-surfaced parking ground facing the 50 by 60 foot screen. The screen, undisturbed from any angle, the theatre-goer may be seated in one of the most modern in Western Canada.

Comfort and convenience for the public have been the prime consideration in the over-all planning of the new South Side. A large, modern snack bar, open before, during, and after performances, will provide refreshments.

Also coupled with this feature is an added convenience for parents who no longer have to leave the baby at home. A bottle heating service will be available all hours for parents with hungry infants.

MODERN FEATURES

Most modern of the many new features of the South Side is the moonlight lighting, which will add to the safety and comfort of patrons.

In order to bring this new type of lighting to theatre-goers for the first time in Alberta, a special sector pole 90 feet high was brought from British Columbia.

Five flood lights are situated at the top for use before and after programs. Another four, two amber and two green, provide diffused moonlight lighting over the grounds enabling patrons to find their automobiles while the show is on.

"This does not affect the screen in any way," said Mr. McDonald. Numerous features of the snack bar include the view window, the length of the bar, through which patrons may view the show while purchasing refreshments. A loud-speaker is connected to the snack bar allowing patrons to listen to movie as well as watch it.

SELF-SERVE SERVICE

A self-serve hot cream freezer is also at the disposal of customers. "At the self-serve counter, there will be mustard, ketchup, salt, pepper," explained Mr. McDonald. "They like it better this way."

Mr. McDonald recently completed a tour through many United States drive-in theatres and has compiled many of the various new modern methods used there in the new South Side.

The projection room, containing two water-cooled arc projectors, is

Committee Will Probe Strike-Plagued Port

LONDON.—(Reuters)—Five men, meeting behind closed doors, have begun an investigation of this port and the habits of its 27,000 dockers, stevedores and lightermen.

The British government asked them to find out why the Port of London has been the most strike-ravaged sector of British industry in the last five years.

Several earlier, unofficial investigations have suggested possible explanations. The two most popular have been:

1. That Communists have infiltrated into the port, obtained key positions in the trade unions and brought the workers under their influence.

2. That the mammoth trade union which organizes a majority of the port workers, has lost touch with the rank and file, does not adequately represent their interests and so drove them to unofficial action.

British Communists deny the first suggestion. The trade union denies the second.

MAKE-UP OF INQUIRY

The five men who have to sift the evidence and try to reach an objective conclusion are: Sir Frederick Leggatt, a former high official at the ministry of labor; A. M. Holborn, vice-president of the Federation of Civil Engineering Contractors; G. H. Bagwell, a former trade union official who is now an industrial administrator; Sir Robert Hyde, founder of the Industrial Welfare Society; and Sir Wilfrid Garrett, a former chief inspector of factories.

They held their first meeting at the end of May and their report is not likely to be published for some months yet.

Port employers trade union officials and government-appointed administrators are expected to give evidence before the committee of enquiry.

Biggest dispute since the war occurred last summer, when the port was brought to a standstill by an refusal of dockers to work Canadian ships which they regarded as "black"—that is, the subject of a trade union dispute.

Government and trade union spokesmen denied the ships were "black," said trouble on board was due to a domestic feud in Canada between the Communist Canadian Seamen's Union and the rival International Seafarers Union, sponsored by the American Federation of Labor.

U.S. Women Getting Drab

CHICAGO, (UP)—American women are so afraid of over-dressing that they're getting "drab," according to Carmel Snow, fashion expert.

"Lots of pretty young American wives haven't shown their shoulders since their college proms," she told a fashion group here.

"They have allowed themselves to go drab for fear of being conspicuous," Mrs. Snow commented.

"You see groups of American women all in the same dull little black dresses," she said.

Mrs. Snow urged dressing in brighter colors, more distinctive styles and "occasionally, at least, break out with bare shoulders."

Women shouldn't have a "fashion fear complex," she said.

Three-Country Air Cadet Exchange gets Underway

OTTAWA, July 31.—(CP)—The annual interchange of air cadets between Canada, Britain and the United States sponsored by the Air Cadet League of Canada and the RCAF is under way again.

On Friday a U.S. air force plane landed at Edmonton bringing 20 U.S. Civil Air Patrol cadets to Canada for an extended tour of the West.

At the same time 26 Canadian cadets headed south from Edmonton for a similar tour through the western United States.

The second phase of the exchange starts Aug. 3 when a four-engine RCAF North Star takes off from Montreal's Dorval Airport with 25 Royal Canadian Air Cadets, bound for three weeks of sightseeing in England, Scotland, Northern Ireland and Wales, during which they will be presented to the King and Queen.

TURNABOUT FLIGHT
On the turnabout flight, the plane will bring 25 air training corps cadets from Britain to Canada for entertainment by the Ontario and Quebec provincial committees of the league.

The Canadian cadets going to the United States are to visit Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles and spend a day in Hollywood.

They will then go to Dallas, Texas, to attend a mammoth get-together of 150 air cadets from seven different countries.

The return flight, Aug. 14, will carry them to Denver for a "vergent stay en route back to Edmonton."

The U.S. cadets will spend several days of sightseeing in the Vancouver area. On Aug. 15, the group will be divided into two parties, one going to Prince George, B.C., and Jasper, Alta., and the other going to Kimberley, B.C., and Banff, Alta.

They will come together at Calgary before moving into Saskatchewan for stunts at Regina and the Prince Albert national camp.

That 60-Homer Mark

Monday mumbblings... and whatever became of Ralph Kiner's hopes of beating the late 'Babe' Ruth's mark of 60 homers in a season?

When Kiner tops the stands come down, But 'Babe' said to hit 'em from town to town.

Prediction: When the showdown comes over the matter of increased purses for the August race meeting here, the horsemen will demand that a $1,000 minimum be established... Calgary fight promoter Elmer Lloyd or telling it that George Dunn, the Connecticut brawler who stopped Al Marotti in three beats at Kingsway the other night, wants to fight out of the Cowtown—for him, of course.

Add nicknames that cling deep: Lloyd Jenney, Calgary Buffs' irrepressible outfielder, has been tagged 'Yogi' by his teammates. Whether Lloyd or 'Yogi,' the stocky fletcher was a big headache for Eskis at Renfrew Park yesterday afternoon.

There are reports from time to time that Lew Jenkins, the battered up ex-lightweight champion, is to be brought to Edmonton for a fight or two. Anyone contemplating paying his karma this way should catch the shot of him in the last issue of 'Sport' magazine.

Steve Karra, the footballer who is trying to escape the clutches of Ottawa Roughriders, is doing so in the form of a $6,500 offer... Whatever because of Nick Weaslock?

The Flyers' 'Skinhead' line of Elmer Kreller-Alex Pringle-Fred Smith is due to be broken up after the September workouts. What's more it's in the works to give the first named a thorough trial as a defenceman.

Happy birthday dept: Hank Bruer, New York Yankee outfielder, 28 today; Earl Weaver, former Montreal Maroon puck star of Camrose and Wetaquinn, 43 tomorrow; Lord Island-born, Lloyd (Yogi) Jenney, Calgary Buffs, 20 tomorrow; Chet Vasey, Calgary Buffs, 21 tomorrow.

Johnny McCormack, west-end boy who made it to Toronto Maple Leafs last winter, 25 Wednesday; prizefighter like Williams, 25 Wednesday; Neil Colville, coach New York Rangers, 36 Friday; Max Koolet, Richard, 29 Friday; Luscious Luke Easter, Cleveland slugger 29 Friday.

Flyer trainer Doug Hardy, 42 Friday; Cecil (Tiger) Goldstick, Eskimos grid trainer, 35 Saturday.

Add look-alikes: Boston Red Sox's disabled star, Ted Williams, and Ed (The King) Feigner, football trickster, 17th. Whatever because of Elmer's onetime domination of Calgary in the field of tennis?

John Ducey, general manager of Eskimos, Big Four Baseball league pace-setter, was back again at Renfrew Park yesterday, after his jaunt to Montana to 'case' the Pioneer loop.

As he put it: "I'm mighty glad not to be interested in Edmonton and Calgary gelling franchises in the Pioneer league, after looking into the matter."

Apparently 'the mileage' would be back-breaking, just as it is now for several teams in the circuit.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers sport what is believed to be the only training tale in the Western Football Conference. Every night, after their workout, the Bombers break together... Joe Kinsinger, Sr. scheduled to 'play' Country Club Saturday, gets a minimum of $250 for each exhibition of his golf wizardry.

Suggested new name for Calgary's Buffalo Stadium, which is brought on because Glen Gorbous, top home run hitter of the Big Four, operates there most of the time: 'Gorbous Gardens.'

George Allen, formerly with Chicago Black Hawks, Montreal Canadiens and Cleveland Barons, will play with Regina Caps next season.

Item: Ted Kipper, who lost it with Eskis last season, bit another of those one-of-the-longest-ever homers the other day in Okmulgee... The $64 question: what hockey team is reported to be hot on the trail of Cecil Goldstick, idea being to install him as trainer.

MARTELLS EXTENDED BY CAMROSE DUO

Highlands club pair of Henry and Burns Martell had to go to the 20th hole yesterday before downing the Camrose pair of Ed Shuman and Al Meyers in the Eaton golf trophy challenge competition.

And for the longest time it appeared that Shuman and Meyers were going to take the trophy back home with them.

Going to the 17th they had the Martells on hand. However they bowed to a pair of birdies at the 17th, then got to the 18th to hole 'em overtime.'

At the long 20th (2nd) both of the Highlands played bad par. When neither of the Highlands could get down in regulation figures the match was over.

Calumet's Ponder Cops Arlington 'Cap

CHICAGO, July 31—(AP)—Calumet farm's stretch-running Pounder bounded out of tenth place Saturday to win the $75,000-added Arlington Handicap by three-quarters of a length at Arlington Park before a swelling crowd of 28,000.

The 1986 Kentucky derby winner overhauled the little three-year-old filly, Agnes, who was a stakes winner, and then a stakes winner, Agnes, owned by Hal Price Headley, Lexington, Ky., finished second. Inexplicable was third.

Pounder carried money of $38,000. The victory worth $48,000, the first scored by Calumet Farms in five stakes since during the 36-day Arlington meeting which closed Saturday.

Pounder's earnings to $27,715 to take rank along with Citation, Sigmund, Armed, Assault, all called Chosen.

GRIM looking pent emerging from Esk dugout prior to start of yesterday's twin-bill at Renfrew Park is catcher-manager Ed Morris. Eskimos dropped both games to Calgary Buffs, bossman of which is Vince Pesky. Right, shown in customary pose in third-base coach's box.

Pipeline Employees See on Ground What They've Looked at on Paper

VISIT TO PROJECT was both educational and entertaining. Madeleine Dunn and C. Pollard, instructor, engage in some high jinks.

EMPLOYEES LOOK down at what was previously wiggle line on paper. Ditching machine is in background. All operations were inspected by workers taken to site by bus, private cars. Trip gave employees half holiday, made them better acquainted with their jobs.

WAY DOWN there, eh? Mary Martin, Beth Merrigan, 1925-87 avenue; Greta Vinson, 9629-105 street and Gladys Jones, guest of employees, look over pipe into trench.

WATCHING welder at work are Yvonne Chandler, 11231-66 street; Harriet Barker, 11002-100 street. Trip acquainted office workers with all operations.

Cool And Clear

Note to the weatherman: Thanks very much for a lovely week-end. Just keep on being cool and calculating.

My good friend Bob Wright of Provincial News called me up the other day and I kind of wish I had missed the call.

Bob suggested I get the latest issue of Colliers magazine for the article entitled, "Hiroshima, U.S.A." Well I read that story and haven't slept any too well since.

It's about an atom bomb bursting over New York City. Frankly, it scared me. I couldn't help thinking about an atom bomb bursting over Edmonton.

I'm not the only one thinking about atom bombs these days. Some important people are thinking about atom bombs.

Take war veteran Mayor Sid Parsons for instance. Just the other day, the mayor reminded me he had opposed locating the municipal airport so close to the city center more than 20 years ago.

"That airport will be a primary military target if this continent is attacked from the northwest," said the mayor.

Our mayor is looking forward to a discussion on civilian defense at a conference of Canadian mayors in Saskatoon shortly. It is to be addressed by Maj.-Gen. W. F. Worthington, who heads civilian defense plans for Canada.

Edmonton is to have armored car service to and from city banks.

That's one car that should always look like a million dollars.

Rivets to divots: Of course you've heard of resolutions being steamrollered through. In Edmonton we've advanced. We're riveting 'em on through.

Here's what I mean: At last week's luncheon meeting of Edmonton Gyro Club, Roy Miller succeeded in having an amendment to the club constitution passed because nobody could hear what it was.

Steelworkers on the new Mac extension had their riveting guns going full blast.

Just to prevent this kind of power politics becoming a habit, the Gyros are going to hold their next meeting at the Highlands Golf Club, with a golf tournament being combined with the business session.

A polite goodnight to all and especially to traffic policemen.

TWENTY PASSENGERS on the River Queen disembark under supervision of Constable Bud Ward after mishap on river yesterday. None were in danger and most passengers said rescue operations added to fun of trip.

Pipeline Company Workers See Equipment On The Job

By John Holmick

Now, at least, they've seen what they're doing.

The 70 employees of International Pipe Line Company Saturday visited work crews laying part of the 40 mile pipe line from Edmonton to Regina.

A chartered bus, transported with private cars, transported the group out on the two-and-one-half-hour tour, nine miles southeast of Edmonton.

For many of the office workers, clerks, secretaries, stenographers, draftsmen and office boys, it was their first visit to the project, which to most was previously just office work.

First stop on the tour was a ditching machine, a large complicated affair used in building the 20 inch pipe into position to fit the shape of the land.

Only a few minutes walk away was the welding machine, which didn't prove quite as interesting.

Two Launches, Police Help Boat Passengers

Edmonton's paddling pleasure boat, the River Queen, carrying 20 passengers, had to be assisted to a landing yesterday.

The vessel was in slight of its berth on return trip from an hour cruise up the river on regular Sunday schedule when the mishap occurred about 7 p.m.

Some 20 passengers and three crew members were aboard the boat.

Owner and crewman John Bell, 1127-01 street, told police the broken axle stopped the River Queen's engine and left her at mercy of the North Saskatchewan current.

LAUNCHES HELP Prompt relief appeared of two motor launches kept the float.

Earlier, an attempt by launch operator Harry Honey, 1065-02 avenue, to get a line ashore from the River Queen, failed when he was unable to obtain enough slack to wrap it around a tree.

The disabled boat was eventually brought close to the south bank by Honey and Harold Leitch, 960-106 street, in another launch.

The two veteran rivermen were returning from Big Island with their families, they said, when they saw the River Queen was in trouble.

"We put the women and children ashore first, then went to help the drifting boat," Honey said. He took one load of passengers to the south side of the river bank.

The rest made their way ashore via the gangplank.

Extra hand was added when owner Bell went over the side while trying to get a line ashore. He came in the side of his boat until he was picked up by Honey at the launch.

Police said the River Queen was well equipped and complied with all rules and other safety regulations. Boatmen were as little danger at any time, they stated.

Other crew members were the owner's brother, Stanley Bell, and former Gaultier, 1064-109 street, caretaker.

Police in attendance at the mishap advised rescue operations added to fun of trip.

Seek Driver After Mishap

Police are seeking a hit and run motorist who knocked Harry Dubensky, 12810-103 street, from his motorcycle Saturday.

Dubensky was taken to Holy Alexandra hospital with head injuries following the collision at 101 street and 106 avenue at 10:30 p.m.

Witnesses failed to get car's number, police said.

Two tow trucks were needed to right a water truck which overturned at corner of 111 street and 107 avenue in another of city's seven traffic accidents over the weekend.

Charles E. Moore, 1330-315 avenue, said police the truck turned over when his steering wheel "seemed to lock" as he was approaching the intersection.

Anxious bystanders called a crash truck from No. 2 fire station, apparently under impression leaking water was gasoline.

Car Market Price Trend Levels Off

Sales Down For Used Autos, New Car Demand Still High

The average Edmontonian apparently wants a shiny new model this year when he goes shopping for an automobile.

Used car dealers in the city reported business slack compared with the same period last year.

Their reports came from "slow" in prices—and sales—down at least 25 per cent from last year.

One dealer remarked "people are no longer paying 'crazy' prices for used cars."

NEW CARS Meanwhile new car dealers were telling a different story.

Most of them said demand was far ahead of supply. New cars, they said, "were selling like hotcakes."

One thought he could sell "twice as many cars" as he was putting into his showroom.

The used car situation here is in earlier this year of a price reduction in new cars.

"A slight increase because of the recently announced ban on the prices would be felt, but dealers said."

Dealers reports from the east, indicated that dealers here may be overly optimistic. The report indicated many of the car industry's material and up-assembly parts have jumped in cost.

"Price increases are wholly possible," declared some.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Woman Has Right To Change Her Mind

By Bea Tiffity

A woman's right to change her mind extends to things like the placement of furniture and colors she uses in her home.

Housewives usually feel that they bear the brunt of this changeable nature, since they have to help move the piano and pay the redecorating bills. But whole industries, not just husbands, get headaches over unpredictable home-makers. In the home furnishing and decorating industries, for instance, they're constantly trying to outguess women as to their color preferences.

Just because a woman picks maroon carpets and cream walls one year doesn't mean she'll choose colors that once faintly resemble those the next time she redecorates.

"Women are not a static group that buys a favorite color year in and year out," explained a man who's made it his business to study the colors women will choose the next time they redecorate.

His color clinic began operating before the war in the U.S. in the days when women preferred cream walls and maroon rugs.

"But when we interviewed those women we found that they were thinking about grey or green carpets and harmonizing walls," he said. After the war, green and grey did become top colors in carpets, paint and wallpaper.

A new color trend in homes is about due, but it's too early to say whether it will mean more clear, bright shades, or more beige and brown. Both are possible, because of popularity of informal ranch house architecture.

My man isn't talking, since the cross-country color survey he just completed has yet to be released to manufacturer clients this fall. Whether women pick, he has confidence in their innate decorating taste.

"That move toward lighter walls and carpets made good decorating sense," he said. "An individual housewife may be stumped on a particular color problem in her own home, but generally speaking they have good decorating sense."

He is talking about a new development which will make it easier for paint dealers to meet any color whim. It's a system of 24 colors of concentrated color called "Tint-a-Mix," which the dealer can drop into a special formula white paint to create any color.

Freddie is at an age when he is driving his mother frantic. He used to be a nice, quiet boy.

Now he has developed into a screamer. When he wants something and he is full of wrath—well, if it is not forthcoming immediately, he sets up a scream which scares the neighbors and relatives and penetrates the neighborhood.

His mother's punishment is to put him in his room. But first she suggests some other way to act. "You climb up on the kitchen chair and you get the drink your mother will give you," she says reasonably. Sometimes it seems to work.

WHY GROW OLD

Crepy Neck? Camouflage, Work for Improvement

By Josephine Lowman

Are you the unhappy possessor of a so-called "crepy neck" that has crinkly crepe-like skin?

If you have been looking under the delusion that some magic cream or exercise will easily get you out of it if you use it long enough, you are mistaken. You should know that that great improvement can be made.

Here are the facts: Crepy neck, which is due in part simply to the passage of years, cannot be fully restored to its original charm. However, this condition can be delayed for years, and improved if it has already occurred, if you are faithful in the application of oily creams and regular exercise.

TRY THESE EXERCISES

Turn your head from side to side, lower it forward, and then lower it backward. Try to touch your left ear to your left shoulder and then your right ear to your right shoulder. Make circles with your head.

Now-and-then practice these exercises will not do the job. In order to produce tangible results, you must do them about five minutes every day.

If you get weakly aim the head in the directions mentioned you will not produce the effect you seek. The motions must be firm and must reach to the extremes to which the head can be turned or tilted, with the neck muscles fully stretched and contracted.

A decorative theme that is calm and restful, and still not monotonous, can be achieved by using only two colors in a room. The trick is in revealing the pattern; the colors must be used in stripes and beiges on brown for chair or sofa. Grey with black or blue-grey with navy are similarly interesting combinations.

'Corpse' Celebrates Diamond Anniversary of Her 'Death'

MAIDENHEAD, England.—(Reuters).—Members of three generations of the Seymour family will shortly meet in this Thameside town to commemorate the "death" of Mrs. Francis Seymour.

When they sit down to dinner their hostsess will be—Mrs. Francis Seymour.

At 85, Mrs. Seymour (she stands 5'10" tall) is as spry as the women at only 30, and is as capable of a medical miracle. In 1850 she "died" on the operating table as operated on her for acute septic poisoning pronounced her dead.

At least two of the three surgeons who operated on her for acute septic poisoning pronounced her dead. She stopped breathing for two minutes, and her temperature dropped below the point regarded as the minimum at which a human being can live.

SURGEON COMMENT. These two surgeons, satisfied that their right to save the young woman's life had failed, stood back, removed their masks and asked questioningly at the third surgeon.

But their colleague did not join them in defeat; instead, acting on intuition, he took the limp body in his arms and carried it to his bed.

Looking back, Mrs. Seymour said the worst part was not waking up to find she had been "put on ice," but the hectic six weeks which followed. She was the hospital's first and last case of septic poisoning. Leading physicians came to examine the woman who literally "froze to life."

The life made me shiver so much that the movement—and the shock—was enough to break my circulation, and with it my breathing," she says.

Dr. Seymour will celebrate the diamond jubilee of her "death" by entertaining the family and friends to a home-cooked dinner. And there will probably be ice cream for dessert—Mrs. Seymour is a great believer in refrigeration.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Prospective Mate Scared By Expensive Dresses

DEAR MISS DIX: My mother gave me a very pretty diamond ring, which I wear with pride and pleasure.

My aunts and cousins tell me the ring is beautiful. I have heard that because of this ring and that I am spoiling my chances of marriage by wearing it. They say I am giving the boys off by it and that no young man would marry a girl who wore such an expensive piece of jewelry. He would think he could never support her. Are they right in this viewpoint?

EMMA MAY.
ANSWER: I don't know whether a diamond ring could hoodoo a girl's chances of marriage, but I have known many girls get out on getting a good husband by dressing too well.

In fact, nothing is more common than the pitiful tragedy that we see enacted over and over again, in which a girl does the thing to attract a man that drives him farthest from her. She is proud and she wants to make a hit with some young chap with whom she has fallen in love. She knows that fine feathers make fine birds, and that even a living picture is enhanced by attractiveness by a gorgeous frame. So she goes in for the expensive clothes that will add to her beauty and that she feels sure will capture her man.

But it doesn't. It scares him stiff. He thinks that she isn't the kind of woman that he wants for a wife. He wants a helpmeet, a woman who will be willing to work and pinch pennies while he is getting a start in the world. He doesn't intend to handpick himself by a clothes-made wife who will run him into debt with her extravagance.

Believe me, my dear, every young man worth having does count the cost of the upkeep of a wife, and many a one is frightened out of marriage by a girl's overdressing the part.

So perhaps it would be just as you want some poor young chap to put a good gold on your finger.

Women vs. Fear

In a message to British women's organizations Lord Boyd Orr recently said:

"The great issue of today must be faced with cool heads and warm hearts. The women of the world to whom courage could do a great deal to dispel present fear and anxiety, inspire the people with faith in our civilization and create a worldwide well-informed public opinion."

They could give governments courage to provide the bold leadership needed to put the world on the road to the new golden age which modern science has made possible."

Small business firms account for about 90 per cent of the total business population of the United States.

Art Treasure Found

PARIS, July 31.—(AP)—American archaeologists have unearthed on an Aegean island the right hand and finger of the classical Greek art treasure, the Winged Victory of Samothrace. The armless and headless sculpture, found in 1863, is in the Louvre museum.

"IT'S WET IN THERE" say Jo-Jo and Jerry, new polar bear cubs at Detroit Zoo, who have no mother to guide them into water. So trainer Eli Sorok took on job of teaching them to swim. At first they seemed reluctant pupils because, as pictured above, they dashed out of pool first chance they got. However, when left alone in another cage, they jumped into water and splashed about like a couple of kids in old swimming hole.

Anti-Red Film To Warn U.S. Forces Of Danger

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(UP)—The armed forces soon will show servicemen a special movie designed to alert them to the "dangers of Communism and the meaning of the cold war," it was disclosed today.

The major theme of the "Security Information" film is that Communism adheres to a strict party line—"History America." It is intended to alert party leaders, sailors, airmen and marines on guard against propaganda techniques that may be used to weaken their morale.

The film was produced by the Army Signal Corps with the guidance of other government agencies. It was based partly on information supplied by the FBI.

DURING SPY TRIAL
Filing of the movie was begun about the time that the spy trial of government girl Judith Coplan was making headlines.

A few hours before a flight of three KC-134 Starliners of the 42nd Bombardment Group landed at a Tokyo airfield. It was the first shuttle trip for the Canadian planes which will fly the supply route from McChord Field, near Tacoma, Wash., to Tokyo.

OIL PIPELINE COULD DELIVER WITHIN YEAR

SEATTLE, Wash., July 31.—(UP)—The president of a gas company said Saturday that natural gas or oil could be brought from Alberta to the Pacific Coast by pipeline in a year if necessary.

A. Faun Dixon, New York, president of the Northwestern Natural Gas Co., said he hoped the Alberta government would permit gas exports by next spring.

Dixon said his company's application was for a natural gas line costing an estimated $110,000,000 but he said the proposed pipeline line could transport crude oil if necessary.

Atomic Expert Gets New Post

Dr. E. Steacie To Co-ordinate All Research Council Work

OTTAWA, July 31.—(CP)—Appointment of one of Canada's top atomic scientists and chemists to co-ordinate all research by the National Research Council—including atomic fission—was announced today.

He is Dr. E. W. R. Steacie, 50, director of the division of chemistry at NRC, who was deputy director of the British-Canadian atomic research project during the war. He will have the title of vice-president (scientific) of the National Research Council.

The announcement was made by Prime Minister Hume in his capacity as chairman of the committee of the privy council on scientific and industrial research. Dr. Steacie would "ensure that the work of the several divisions proceeds according to a general over-all plan and that the integration of research is maintained throughout the laboratories." He said: "One of these divisions is the atomic energy project at Chalk River, Ont., where Canada has a unique role and is carrying on research for peaceful purposes. It was not indicated what, if any, changes might be made in atomic research plans as a result of the appointment."

Dr. Steacie will continue as director of the division of chemistry, a post he has held since 1939. In this division, the announcement said, he has "brought up a research group in chemical kinetics that has won world acclaim." During the war he was closely associated with Dr. Otto Masch of McGill University, Montreal, in the organization of Canadian chemists in the field of chemical warfare.

In the United States in 1947, 132 prisoners were executed, 42 white persons and 110 negroes.

Church Cuts Delinquency

DETROIT, (UP)—Boys who attend church are much less likely to become juvenile delinquents than those who roam the streets on Sundays, according to a Wayne University psychologist.

William W. Wattenberg, associate professor of educational psychology, interviewed 2,137 boys who had been picked up by Detroit police officers.

Church attendance, he said, "is part of a way of living which generally reduces tendencies toward juvenile misconduct."

He said church attendance not only helps keep boys out of trouble, but also is an influence in keeping them from "repeating."

Civilian On AHC
